Simple Solutions English 4 · Lessons #28, #29, #30, #31 · Test: Friday, October 23

How to use this packet

1. Read the Fix-it pages (pages 2–4) first. They show the book problems to look at again, the right answer, and HOW to think about it.
2. Read the mini-lesson for each skill. Gold-star skills are the ones to practice most.
3. Work the 40 test-review problems (new words, same skills as Lessons #28–#31).
4. Do the Extra Practice page for the gold-star skills.
5. Check with the answer key at the back. Every answer says WHY. Redo any you missed.
6. Bonus: the interactive page reads questions aloud and gives more practice on anything you miss, until you get it.

★ = gold-star skill: something to fix from the book pages. These get extra practice.

Fix-it: Let's Look Again

The book problems to fix, the right answer, and how to think about it. Read each one out loud.

1 L31 #3: Plural of knife

What happened: Wrote “knifves”.
knife ends in -fe. Rule: change the f or fe to v, then add -es.
kni + fe → kni + v + es.
Only ONE v. The f is gone, so there's no “fv”.

Answer: knives

2 L29 #10: Choose the plural of loaf: loafs, loafes, loaves

What happened: Circled “loafs” and “loafes”.
Only one answer is right: pick one.
loaf ends in f → change f to v → add -es.
(You wrote “loaves” correctly on L31 #3, so you know this one!)

Answer: loaves

3 L29 #1: thin: pick a synonym and an antonym (thick, loose, smart, lean)

What happened: Wrote synonym “loose”, antonym “smart”.
Synonym = SAME meaning. A thin runner is a lean runner.
Antonym = OPPOSITE. A thin book vs. a thick book.
“loose” and “smart” aren't about being thin at all. They are traps.

Answer: synonym: lean; antonym: thick

4 L28 #10: whether / weather

What happened: Wrote “wheather” for “My decision will depend on ___ I have enough money.”
“depend on IF I have money” → if = whether.
Spell it w-h-e-t-h-e-r. No a! (weather has the a: it's the one about rain.)

Answer: whether

5 L30 #9: Contractions: cannot, are not, will not

What happened: Wrote “cannot”, “arenot”, “will”. (“doesn't” was right!)
A contraction is ONE word with an apostrophe (') where letters were taken out.
are not → take out the o → aren't. cannot → take out n, o → can't.
will not is the special one: it changes to won't.

Answer: can't, aren't, won't

Fix-it: Let's Look Again (continued)

6 L31 #4: Write F for formal or I for informal

What happened: Used a check mark and an X.
You knew which was which. Just use the letters the directions ask for.
“James, would you care to join us?” is polite → F.
“Hey, dude, are you gonna…” is slang → I.

Answer: F, then I

7 L30 #1: Underline the complete predicate: The hummingbird's wings flapped more rapidly than I could imitate.

What happened: Underlined only “wings”.
“wings” is part of the SUBJECT (who/what): The hummingbird's wings.
The predicate starts at the verb: flapped.
Complete predicate = verb + everything after it.

Answer: flapped more rapidly than I could imitate

8 L29 #5: Match simple and complete predicate (A: cheered underlined; B: waited patiently for his turn underlined)

What happened: Wrote B for simple, A for complete (switched).
Only one word, the verb, underlined → simple predicate (A, cheered).
Verb + more words → complete predicate (B).

Answer: simple = A, complete = B

9 L29 #2 / L31 #1: Divide into syllables: reserve, lotion; resist, gigantic, desire

What happened: Split as rese|rve, loti|on, res|ist, giga|ntic, des|ire. (belief, deposit, rebel were right.)
Find vowel-consonant-vowel. Split BEFORE the consonant first.
The first syllable ends with a vowel and says its name: re-, lo-, gi-, de-.
Keep -tion together.

Answer: re/serve, lo/tion, re/sist, gi/gan/tic, de/sire

10 L31 #5: Underline the singular possessive noun: Joe's shoes gave him blisters…

What happened: Underlined “gave”.
Possessive = owner word with ’s.
“gave” is the verb. “Joe's” has the ’s.

Answer: Joe's

11 L29 #3: Grace has a computer. It is ___ computer.

What happened: Left blank.
Owner + apostrophe + s.

Answer: Grace's

12 L29 #8 / #4: Underline the adjectives: Four hikers tramped down the muddy path.

What happened: Left blank. (On #4, "durty" should be spelled dirty.)
Adjectives tell how many or what kind about a noun.
How many hikers? Four. What kind of path? muddy.

Answer: Four, muddy

13 L29 #6: The assembly was for (our / are) entire school.

What happened: Circled "are".
Try "belonging to us": the school belongs to us → our.
"are" is a verb (we are).

Answer: our

14 L29 #7: Put the comma in the correct place (address)

What happened: Put commas after the name, after the house number, and before the zip.
Only ONE comma: between the city and the state.
No comma after the name, the house number, or before the zip code.

Answer: Lansing, Michigan 48910

15 L29 #9 / L31 #10 / L28 #2: Capitals

What happened: Wrote "My Grandpa", "east coast"; missed Mr. Bean; on L31 #10 underlined only i and mrs.
Names, titles (Mr., Mrs., Dr.), places, and book titles get capitals.
After "my", family words stay small: my grandpa.
L31 #10: I, Natasha, Mrs. Robinson, Cinderella.

Answer: Mr. Bean, my grandpa, Dr. Moran, East Coast; I, Natasha, Mrs. Robinson, Cinderella

16 L30 #4 / L31 #9: Commas and quotation marks with quotes

What happened: Put a comma after “doubt”; on L31 #9 added only one comma and no quotation marks.
Comma after the speaker words: Liza asked, "Can…?"
Quote first? Comma inside the end mark: "…for that," said Mom.
No extra comma after ! or ?.
Quotation marks go around the exact spoken words.

Answer: Liza asked, "Can we go to the toy store?" | "I doubt that we will have time for that," said Mom. | Billy asked, "Where is Suzie?" | "It's not my day to watch her," replied Carla.

17 L30 #6: Car bike and bus are all ways to get to school.

What happened: Put one comma (after Car).
Comma after every item in the list except the last.

Answer: Car, bike, and bus

18 L31 #8 / L28 #4: Future tense

What happened: #8 left blank; #4 underlined only “open”.
Future = will + verb. Both words are the verb.

Answer: will bark; will open

19 L28 #5: (A / An) ostrich is too heavy to fly…

What happened: Circled A. ostrich starts with a vowel sound → an.

Answer: An

20 L30 #8: Underline the root of printable

What happened: Underlined the whole word.
Take off the suffix -able: print.

Answer: print (teach, kind)

Mini-Lessons & Tips

How to do it, an example, and something to remember. Gold star = practice this most.

1. Plurals: f to ves ★ FOCUS

L29-10, L31-3

- Most words ending in f or fe: change the f or fe to v, then add -es.
- Only ONE v. Never "fv".

Example: knife → knives, loaf → loaves, calf → calves, shelf → shelves, leaf → leaves.

Remember: Say it: the f turns into a v.

2. Synonyms & antonyms ★ FOCUS

L28-6, L29-1, L31-7

- Synonyms mean the SAME (thin / lean).
- Antonyms mean the OPPOSITE (thin / thick).
- Test it in a sentence: "a thin dog" = "a lean dog".

Example: tiny: synonym small, antonym huge.

Remember: Cross out the words that are neither.

3. Contractions ★ FOCUS

L30-9

- Two words squeezed into one. An apostrophe (') takes the place of missing letters.
- will not → won't is special.

Example: are not → aren't, cannot → can't, does not → doesn't, is not → isn't.

Remember: No apostrophe = not a contraction.

4. whether vs. weather ★ FOCUS

L28-10

- weather = rain, sun, snow, wind.
- whether = if. Spelled w-h-e-t-h-e-r (no a).

Example: I don't know whether the weather will be nice.

Remember: whether ↔ if.

5. Formal vs. informal English ★ FOCUS

L31-4

- Formal = polite, proper: school, writing, grown-ups.
- Informal = relaxed: friends, slang (hey, dude, gonna, awesome).
- Write F or I, not a check or an X.

Example: "May I please be excused?" F. "Gotta go!" I.

Remember: Follow the directions: use the letters.

6. Simple vs. complete predicate ★ FOCUS

L28-1, L29-5, L30-1

- Simple predicate = just the verb (or will + verb).
- Complete predicate = the verb + all the words after it.
- The subject (who/what) is NOT part of the predicate.

Example: The tall boy | ran to the bus. Simple: ran. Complete: ran to the bus.

Remember: Find the verb, then draw a line before it.

Mini-Lessons & Tips (continued)

7. VCV syllables (open & closed) ★ FOCUS

L29-2, L31-1

- Find vowel-consonant-vowel (VCV).
- Try splitting BEFORE the consonant: open syllable, long vowel (ti/ger, re/sist).
- If that's not a real word, split AFTER the consonant: closed, short vowel (cab/in, reb/el).

Example: lo/tion, re/serve, de/sire, gi/gan/tic.

Remember: -tion stays together.

8. Possessive nouns ('s) ★ FOCUS

L28-9, L29-3, L31-5

- Owner + ’s shows who owns it.
- Only the owner word gets ’s, never the verb.

Example: Grace's computer, Joe's shoes.

Remember: Ask: whose?

9. Capitals: proper nouns & titles ★ FOCUS

L28-2, L29-9, L31-10

- Capitalize names, titles (Mr., Mrs., Dr.), places, stores, days, months, and important words in titles.
- Always capitalize I.
- my grandpa, my mom: small after my.

Example: I told Mrs. Robinson about Cinderella.

Remember: Name or title? Capital.

10. Commas with quotes ★ FOCUS

L30-4

- Speaker first: comma, then the quote. Mom said, "Let's go."
- Quote first: comma INSIDE the end mark. "Let's go," said Mom.
- Quote ends in ? or !: no comma.

Example: "Can I help?" asked Ben.

Remember: Commas and periods stay inside quotation marks.

11. Quotation marks ★ FOCUS

L31-9

- Put quotation marks around the exact words someone says.
- End punctuation goes inside.

Example: Billy asked, "Where is Suzie?"

Remember: Open “ before the first spoken word, close ” after the last.

12. Commas in dates & addresses ★ FOCUS

L28-8, L29-7

- Dates: comma between day and year (May 4, 2026) and after the weekday (Tuesday, May 4).
- Addresses: comma between city and state (Lansing, Michigan). None before the zip.

Example: Dayton, Ohio 45402.

Remember: One comma per address line, at most.

Mini-Lessons & Tips (continued)

13. our vs. are ★ FOCUS

L29-6

- our = belonging to us.
- are = verb (we are, they are).

Example: We are bringing our snacks.
Remember: Swap in "belonging to us".

14. Future tense with will ★ FOCUS

L28-4, L30-2, L31-8

- Future tense = will + verb.
- Both words together are the verb.

Example: Most dogs will bark at loud noises.
Remember: will + verb.

15. Articles a, an, the ★ FOCUS

L28-5, L30-5

- a before a consonant sound; an before a vowel sound.
- the = one particular thing.

Example: an ostrich, an egg, a bird.
Remember: Listen to the first sound.

16. Adjectives ★ FOCUS

L29-4, L29-8, L31-6

- Adjectives describe nouns: what kind, how many, which one.

Example: Four hikers, muddy path, furry puppy.
Remember: Can it fit in "a ___ thing"?

17. Commas in a series ★ FOCUS

L30-6

- 3 or more items: comma after each item except the last.

Example: cars, bikes, and buses.
Remember: Count the commas: items − 1.

18. Roots, prefixes & suffixes ★ FOCUS

L28-7, L30-8

- Root = the main word after you remove the prefix and/or suffix.

Example: teach-er, print-able, kind-ness, pre-school, dis-trust.
Remember: The root is a real word.

19. Adding -ing (double the consonant)

L28-3

- One vowel + one consonant at the end of a short word: double the consonant, add -ing.

Example: drop → dropping, rub → rubbing.
Remember: You did these right!

Mini-Lessons & Tips (continued)

20. Day abbreviations

L30-3

- Capital letter + period.

Example: Sun. Mon. Tues. Wed. Thurs. Fri. Sat.

Remember: You did these right!

21. Homophones (week/weak, pail/pale)

L30-7

- Same sound, different meaning and spelling.

Example: week (7 days) / weak (not strong); pail (bucket) / pale (light).

Remember: Picture the meaning.

22. Object pronouns

L30-10

- Object pronouns: me, you, him, her, it, us, them.

Example: We read about Marie Curie → about her.

Remember: You did this right!

23. Complete sentences

L31-2

- A complete sentence has a subject and a predicate and a complete thought.

Example: The bell rang.

Remember: You did this right!

14. Which is written correctly?
Circle one: my Grandma and Mr. Bean • my grandma and Mr. Bean • My Grandma and mr. bean

Answer Key (with the WHY)

Check after you finish. Read the why for every one you missed.

Lesson #28

#1 Simple: leaped | Complete: leaped high over the log. Why: The verb (action) is “leaped”, so that's the simple predicate. The complete predicate is the verb plus all the words that tell about it: “leaped high over the log.”

#2 on, monday, i, ollie's, burger, barn. Why: On (first word), Monday (day), I (always capital), Ollie's Burger Barn (the restaurant's name, so every word). “sister” and “my” are not names, so they stay small.

#3 stop → stopping | hug → hugging. Why: stop ends in o + p (one vowel, one consonant), so double the p: stopping. hug → double the g: hugging.

#4 will close. Why: “will close” tells what WILL happen, so the future-tense verb is both words: will + close. Underlining just “close” isn't enough.

#5 An. Why: “elephant” starts with the vowel sound e, so we use An: “An elephant…”. (Same as “An ostrich” in the book.)

#6 antonyms. Why: Brave means not afraid; fearful means afraid. They are opposites, so they are antonyms (like smile/scowl).

#7 unlock → lock | distrust → trust | unfair → fair. Why: un + lock → lock; dis + trust → trust; un + fair → fair. The root is a real word by itself.

#8 Come to the play on Friday, April 3, 2026.. Why: Friday, April 3, 2026: one comma after the weekday (Friday,) and one between the two numbers (3, 2026). No comma between April and 3.

#9 Leo's. Why: The owner is Leo, so add ’s: Leo's hamster. Keep the capital L because Leo is a name.

#10 The _____ was too windy for kites. weather | I can't decide _____ to read or draw. whether. Why: Wind is outside, so it's weather. “Decide whether (if) to read or draw” uses whether. Spelling: w-h-e-t-h-e-r has NO a.

Lesson #29

#1 Synonym (same): small | Antonym (opposite): huge. Why: Tiny means very small, so the synonym is small. The opposite of tiny is huge. (In the book: thin → lean is the synonym, thick is the antonym. “loose” and “smart” don't mean thin or its opposite.)

#2 music mu/sic | paper pa/per | motion mo/tion. Why: mu/sic: “mu” says long u. pa/per: “pa” says long a. mo/tion: “mo” says long o (like lo/tion in the book; “-tion” stays together).

#3 Nina's. Why: The scooter belongs to Nina → Nina's scooter. (Book: Grace has a computer → Grace's computer.)

#4 muddy, deep. Why: “a muddy puddle”, “a deep puddle” ✓. splashed is a verb, quickly is an adverb, under is a preposition. Spelling tip: dirty is d-i-r-t-y.

#5 Simple predicate: A | Complete predicate: B. Why: A underlines only the verb “sang” → simple predicate. B underlines the verb plus the rest → complete predicate.

#6 The bake sale is for _____ whole class. our | We _____ painting a mural. are. Why: “…for belonging-to-us class” fits → our. “We are painting” is a verb → are.

#7 Dayton, Ohio 45402. Why: City, State ZIP → Dayton, Ohio 45402. (Book: Lansing, Michigan 48910. No comma after “Ms. Chatty” or after “9964”.)

#8 Two, sleepy, warm. Why: Two (how many cats), sleepy (what kind of cats), warm (what kind of blanket). cats/blanket are nouns, napped is the verb.

#9 Ms. green, my Uncle, dr. Patel. Why: Ms. green → Ms. Green (a name). my Uncle → my uncle (after “my” it's not a name). dr. Patel → Dr. Patel (title). Lake Erie, West Coast, Target are correct.

#10 leaves. Why: leaf: change f to v and add -es → leaves (just like loaf → loaves).

Lesson #30

#1 stretched toward the treetops. Why: The subject is “The giraffe's long neck”. The verb is stretched, and everything after it tells about the stretching: “stretched toward the treetops”. “neck” is part of the subject, not the predicate.

#2 will kick. Why: Future = will + kick → “Ava will kick the ball to me.”

#3 Tuesday → Tues. | Saturday → Sat.. Why: Tuesday → Tues. Saturday → Sat. (capital letter first, period at the end)

#4 1. Dad said, "Let's eat outside." | 2. "It is too cold," said Mia.. Why: 1: Dad said, "..." (comma after said, before the quote). 2: "It is too cold," said Mia. (comma inside the quote mark). No comma if the quote ends with ? or !.

#5 an. Why: “orange” starts with the vowel sound o, so it's an orange.

#6 We packed sandwiches, apples, and juice.. Why: sandwiches, apples, and juice: a comma after sandwiches AND after apples. (Book: Car, bike, and bus. Two commas, not one.)

#7 After the flu, my legs felt _____. weak | The sky was a _____ blue. pale. Why: Legs that aren't strong are weak. Light blue is pale.

#8 painter → paint | readable → read | darkness → dark. Why: paint + er, read + able, dark + ness → paint, read, dark. (Book: teacher → teach, printable → print, kindness → kind.)

#9 is not → isn't | cannot → can't | will not → won't | do not → don't. Why: is not → isn't (o → '). cannot → can't (no → '). will not → won't (it changes!). do not → don't.

#10 them. Why: Grandma and Grandpa are two people, so the pronoun is them.

Lesson #31

#1 robot ro/bot | begin be/gin | lemon lem/on. Why: ro/bot (long o) and be/gin (long e) are open. le-mon with a long e isn't a word, so split after the m: lem/on (short e, closed), like reb/el. (Book: re/sist, gi/gan/tic, de/sire.)

#2 The bell rang loudly.. Why: “The bell rang loudly.” has a subject (the bell) and a predicate (rang loudly). The others leave you wondering who or what happened.

#3 wolf → wolves | half → halves | life → lives | elf → elves. Why: wolf → wolves, half → halves, life → lives, elf → elves. (Book: knife → knives, NOT knifves.)

#4 “Good afternoon, Dr. Kim. May I ask a question?” F | “Yo, that game was sick!” I. Why: “Good afternoon... May I...” is polite → F. “Yo... sick!” is slang → I.

#5 Mia's. Why: Mia's has ’s and shows Mia owns the backpack. “ripped” is the verb, not a possessive. (Book: Joe's, not gave.)

#6 fluffy. Why: fluffy tells what kind of kitten. quickly is an adverb, jumped is a verb, under is a preposition.

#7 silent. Why: quiet and silent mean the same → synonym. noisy is the antonym.

#8 will chirp. Why: Future tense = will + chirp → “The birds will chirp at sunrise.” (Book: Most dogs will bark at loud noises.)

#9 1. Sam asked, "Can I come too?" | 2. "That is my seat," said Lily.. Why: 1: Sam asked, "Can I come too?" (comma after asked; ? inside). 2: "That is my seat," said Lily. (comma inside).

#10 i, jada, mr., ruiz, stuart, little. Why: I (always), Jada (name), Mr. Ruiz (title + name: both), Stuart Little (book title). “book” and “told” are ordinary words.

Extra Practice

Answer Key (with the WHY) (continued)

1. knives. Why: knife → kni + v + es = knives. (Not knifves: the f is gone.)
2. loaves. Why: loaf → loa + v + es = loaves.
3. shelf → shelves | calf → calves. Why: shelf → shelves, calf → calves.
4. Synonym: lean | Antonym: thick. Why: A thin person is lean → synonym. The opposite of a thin book is a thick book → antonym. loose and smart are traps.
5. quick / fast synonyms | empty / full antonyms | start / begin synonyms. Why: quick/fast mean the same (synonyms); empty/full are opposites (antonyms); start/begin mean the same (synonyms).
6. whether. Why: “Tell me if you can come” → whether. It has no a: whether, not wheather.
7. weather. Why: A report about snow is about the weather.
8. are not → aren't | will not → won't | cannot → can't | does not → doesn't. Why: are not → aren't (not “arenot”: drop the o, add '). will not → won't (not just “will”). cannot → can't. does not → doesn't.
9. won't. Why: will not → won't. The apostrophe goes where the o of “not” was: won't.
10. “Hey, wanna grab some pizza?” I | “Thank you for helping me with my project, Mrs. Lopez.” F | “That ride was totally awesome!” I. Why: wanna/hey → I. Thank you, Mrs. Lopez → F. totally awesome → I.
11. splashed. Why: The action word is splashed. “splashed in the puddle” is the complete predicate; “My little brother” is the subject.
12. reserve re/serve | lotion lo/tion | gigantic gi/gan/tic. Why: re/serve, lo/tion, gi/gan/tic: each first syllable ends with a vowel that says its name. Keep -tion together.
13. "Watch out!" yelled Ben.. Why: "Watch out!" yelled Ben. The ! already ends the quote, so no comma.
14. my grandma and Mr. Bean. Why: my grandma (not a name here) and Mr. Bean (title + name).
